

COMPANION DECK · MODULE 3 · DAY 3 · SLIDES 24 TO 26

Five posts.

The set participants analyse in the closing exercise. Same five every workshop so cohorts can be compared. Update annually as the source material dates.

THE FIVE TYPES, IN ORDER

- 01 GENUINE
- 02 DISTORTED
- 03 IMPOSTER
- 04 AI-GENERATED
- 05 HEURISTIC

RUNTIME

8 slides · ~15 minutes

Small groups · phones out · one shared debrief

FOR EACH POST, IN THIS ORDER

Four steps. Then present one.

01

Apply CRAAP.

All five letters. Quick, but completely. Currency, Relevance, Authority, Accuracy, Purpose.

02

Triangulate.

Independent sources. Different owners, different editorial angles, different reporting paths.

03

Spot the heuristic.

Familiarity, authority, social proof, emotional resonance. Which shortcut is the post leaning on?

04

Check for AI.

Text patterns. Image artefacts. Video tells. Voice-cloning cues. Reverse-search where you can.

THEN

Each group presents one post · findings, disagreements, "where we weren't sure".

Central Bank of Nigeria ✓

@CBNigeria · Public account · 3 hours ago

The Monetary Policy Committee has retained the Monetary Policy Rate at 27.50 per cent following its meeting today. The full communiqué, including the vote breakdown and next meeting date, is available on our website.

CBN.GOV.NG

Monetary Policy Committee Communiqué No. 302

Central Bank of Nigeria · Full statement, vote breakdown, and forward guidance from the MPC.

92 replies 380 reposts 2,412 likes 148K views

CATEGORY REVEALED AFTER DEBRIEF

Modelled on real institutional communications. Handle and communiqué number are fictional; the pattern (primary-source link, sober language, realistic engagement for boring news) is what participants should be able to identify.

Federal Ministry of Progress ✓
@nigeria_progress_mnstry · Government account · 6 hours ago

As the Honourable Minister said at yesterday's economic summit: "Inflation has been decisively brought under control" — a landmark achievement for Nigerians.

Our government has delivered peace, prosperity, and record economic growth. 🇳🇬
#ProgressForAll

340 replies 720 reposts 4,812 likes 312K views

CATEGORY REVEALED AFTER DEBRIEF

Account, quote, minister, and summit are fabricated for the exercise. The pattern – a real quote pulled out of context, or a real speech line stripped of its qualifiers – is what triangulation is meant to catch. Groups should try to find the "original speech".

Premium Times NG

@PremiumTimes_NG · premiumtimes.ng · 12 hours ago

EXCLUSIVE: Sources within the ruling party have confirmed plans for a controversial constitutional amendment. Full details in our special report.

Read here: premiumtimes.ng/amendment-leak

PREMIUMTIMES.NG

"The document nobody wants you to see"

Ruling party's secret plan revealed · anonymous senior sources speak out · the amendment they don't want debated.

1,428 replies 8,214 reposts 12,048 likes 892K views

CATEGORY REVEALED AFTER DEBRIEF

Real Premium Times handle: @PremiumTimesng (no underscore). Real URL: premiumtimesng.com (not .ng). Real account is verified. This is a fabricated imposter for the exercise. The pattern – near-identical handle, TLD swap, anonymous "sources" – matches documented cases published on Africa Check and Dubawa.

Naija Leaks Official

@naija_leaks_official · 2 hours ago

EXCLUSIVE — Audio of a senior state official discussing the fuel subsidy diversion. Sent to us anonymously by someone who was in the room.

Listen carefully. Full transcript incoming ↓

#FuelSubsidyScandal #NaijaLeaks

VOICE MEMO · ANONYMOUS SOURCE

recording_leaked_call.m4a

0:47

8,412 replies 24,208 reposts 42,891 likes 3.2M views

CATEGORY REVEALED AFTER DEBRIEF

Voice cloning has become undetectable to casual listeners in 2026 – documented in Africa Check & Dubawa teardowns of Nigerian election-cycle audio "leaks". Account and framing are fabricated. Listen closely: the audio is routine business (quarterly report, committee meeting) – not the fuel-subsidy conversation the post claims. That's the lesson: framing does the deception; the tell is the mismatch between what the caption asserts and what the recording actually says.

Wellness Naija Official

@wellness_naija_official · 8 hours ago

🚨 SHOCK: What Big Pharma DOESN'T want you to know!!!

Nigerian doctors have discovered a NATURAL cure for diabetes using local herbs. Costs pennies. Government is trying to SUPPRESS this information to protect the drug companies making billions.

Share this before it's deleted! 🙏
#TruthMustSpread #NaijaHealth #BigPharmaExposed

12,410 replies 45,208 reposts 89,340 likes 4.8M views

CATEGORY REVEALED AFTER DEBRIEF

Entirely fictional account and claim. The pattern combines all four heuristics: familiarity (looks like a wellness page), authority ("Nigerian doctors have discovered"), social proof (viral engagement), and emotional resonance (fear, hope, urgency). No named doctors, no citations, no primary source.

ANSWER KEY

Do not project until after groups have presented their findings (Module 3 · slide 26 · Debrief).

PUTTING IT ALL TOGETHER

The five, revealed.

POST · 01

Genuine, verified

Tells: verified institutional handle, primary-source link, sober language, realistic engagement for boring news. CRAAP clean.

POST · 02

Verified account, distorted claim

Tells: real-looking verified account plus a quote pulled out of context. Triangulate against the original speech transcript to catch it.

POST · 03

Imposter account

Tells: handle has underscore (real: @PremiumTimesng), URL is .ng not .com, no verified badge, anonymous "sources", clickbait language.

POST · 04

AI-generated audio

Tells: anonymous source, no other outlet reporting it, no original broadcast to compare against. Voice-cloning is undetectable to casual listeners — provenance is the check.

POST · 05

Heuristic exploitation

Tells: conspiracy framing, all-caps, emoji urgency, anonymous "doctors", no citations, viral engagement. All four heuristics at once.

Return to Module 3 · slide 26 · Debrief. Where did groups agree? Where did they disagree? What does that tell us about real-world fact-checking?